Pastor's note:
 Greetings to all!,
 As we begin back with Masses during the weekend and weekday, please know that you are welcome but do not have to come if you decide it would be best not to at this time. The obligation for Sunday/Saturday eve Mass is still lifted by Archbishop until further notice. If you are at risk you may want to consider still staying at home. Those who are sick please do stay home as well as anyone exposed to the coronavirus recently. For those that come, please wear a mask (outdoor Mass perhaps not needed but still can do so). We will have some extra masks available if needed at Church. Please social distance from other households by staying 6 feet away at all times including going and coming, seating, and at Communion. If you would like to receive Communion, you can remove your mask while the person in front of you receives. Be careful not to touch the middle of the mask where germs can be. After you have received Communion you can step to the side and place your mask on and then return to your pew. People can go pew by pew in a single line for Communion. Please depart pew by pew starting from the back when leaving. The collection basket will be at the back that you can drop a donation in coming or going. Thank you for your support. You can bring a misalette Mass guide of your own or use your phone to follow along with the Mass. If you have any extra cleaning supplies, we may have a need for them with cleaning the Church. Thank you and God bless us all!
 Sincerely,
 Father Clayton

Save the Date for a Special Online Symposium on Religious Freedom Monday, June 22nd 7:00 to 8:30 pm
 Religious Freedom in the Time of COVID A Catholic Symposium for Religious Freedom Week Before COVID 19 people of faith in the US and around the world were experiencing a depreciation of the fundamental human rights of religious worship, practice and conscience in the public square. With COVID 19 and the necessary social distancing steps to protect the public health, people of religious conviction have been challenged by states imposing safety guidelines that prohibit public gatherings for worship while allowing comparable secular businesses to operate. As Catholics in quarantine we grapple with our duty to care for the common good by staying home, while we watch as businesses such as liquor stores, and golf courses are deemed "essential". During this online symposium we'll explore the politics and principles of religious freedom in the time of COVID, and how as citizens of faith we are called by God in charity to prudently protect the health of others, while we also guard against allowing this public health crisis to set lasting precedents that erode First Amendment protections for religious minorities. This is an ONLINE event and is by invitation only. Participants who register will be sent a link the day of the event.
